'A vision of Avant Garde'

The Kings Club is a pioneer in a space that is unexplored in Bangalore. Premier craftsmanship and design expertise has helped in creating a picturesque clubhouse in stunning surroundings to help guests disconnect from the outside world and enjoy peace and joy, whilst living life.

Kinara International worked with Nikhil Amashi of The Kings Club to ensure they had the best furniture and fixtures for each aspect of the club, from the billiards room to the spa to the cards room. This included sourcing the most effective and attractive light fittings and accessories.

“The team from Kinara put a lot of time and effort into making sure we were getting the best products on offer and allowed us to negotiate the best prices. They adapted to our requirements very quickly & easily. It was extremely easy to kit out the clubhouse in the way that we imagined, with Kinara sourcing and delivering everything to us.

Kinara were great, they coordinated the whole process very smoothly! I'd give them 10 out of 10, simply put...quality, quality, quality!”

Strategic sourcing is just one area of Kinara’s expertise, there are a few options available to our clients:

Option 1: Kinara can welcome your buyers to China for a unique sourcing trip, so that your team can hand pick the products you require from your preferred vendors, and even negotiate the prices directly yourselves. Kinara will then take care of the entire management of these items, from purchasing the correct quantities, finances, and the logistics of having them delivered to your preferred location. Our team will act as translators too so if you don’t speak Chinese – no problem! This is a great option as clients get to see the items before they purchase and imagine them in their new construction masterpieces.

Option 2: Provide Kinara with a surveyors bill of quantities so that we can source the right products for you, based on architectural plans. You don’t need to visit China, as Kinara can manage everything for you with our local team. Just tell us what you need and we’ll arrange delivery to your preferred location.
